Attorney General Doyle:

It has been my good fortune to serve on the Citizen's Advisory Committee (CAC) for the Public Intervenor during the past six years. As a "retiring" member of the CAC I would like to pass on to you my perception of this era.

Over the years, I have been involved with a number of state committees, commissions, boards, etc. (including six years on the DNR Board). My tenure on the CAC however has been by far the most enjoyable and rewarding. Listed below are several reasons for that evaluation:

- The CAC is an interesting and dedicated collection of individuals. Their "biodiversity" assures a variety of perspectives, yet their decisions are always based on sound environmental and public values.
- The PI office has an extraordinary track record of protecting environmental and public rights (ie. Town of Casey, DOT budgets etc.). These outstanding results are a direct reflection of the two extraordinary Public Intervenors.
- The actions of the PI and the CAC are always reached for the right reasons-- environmental and public rights. Never were personal or political factors a part of the decisions or actions.

As stated earlier, I really enjoyed and appreciated the opportunity to be a member of the CAC. I look forward to reading and hearing about future significant happenings of the PI office.

Sincerely,

Dan Trainer
Dean Emeritus
